

In advance

THE MAKING OF HEIRLOOM/WOODEN HORSES

From noon to 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Smoky Hill Museum, 211 W. Iron, sculptor Alan Carr will give a presentation and workshop. Participants will learn about the history, construction and uses of the western equestrian heirloom. The event will be a comprehensive presentation/demonstration in the making of wooden horses: gliders, rocking horses and Texas exotics along with the history of the famous "Concho" saddle. To register, call 309-5776. Space is limited.

Courtesy photo

This maple horse glider (top left) and wooden zebra rocking horse (above) were carved by sculptor Alan Carr. He will be giving a presentation and workshop at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Smoky Hill Museum, 211 W. Iron.

Kid's stuff

FIRST TREASURES

Under the First Treasures tent, children can purchase original artwork (at child friendly prices, $5 or less), all made available from Festival artists and craftpersons. Children are then encouraged to seek out the artist who made their "treasure" to learn more about the piece. The purpose of First Treasures is to encourage, educate and develop art patrons of the future. The First Treasures tent is open from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Saturday. Registration for entrance time blocks begins at 9 a.m.

ART PARTICIPATION AREA

The Children's Art Participation Area allows children to create their own art under one tent manned by volunteers. These activities are free. New art projects for the 2007 Festival include Ojos de Dios, It's a Breeze, I've Been Framed!, and Now THAT'S a Hat!

CHILDREN'S STAGE

The Children's Stage presents a variety of performances with families in mind. Acts include StoneLion Puppet Theatre; Jamie Adkins, comedy and juggling; Justin Roberts, songster; and Kenny J, Dance Party DJ. Also look for Sunset Elementary S.T.A.R. Drum, Ann Zimmerman and the Salina Children's Choir.

CHILDREN'S GAME AREA

Salina's nonprofit groups offer games for children, such as pop-a-shot and plinko.

FACE PAINTING

Children can put in their face-painting request – a prima donna princess, a brave buccaneer, a silly clown or a scary lion.

on the cover

METAL FISH

Jim and Cheryl Jones, Springfield, Mo.
Four Rivers Craft Market — No. 36

SWIRLING FISH PIECE (painting on silk)

Diane Lawrence, Berryton, Kan.
Fine Art Show — No. 51

MIXED MEDIA BOAT

Mitch Berg, Santa Fe, N.M.
Four Rivers Craft Market — No. 12

Sponsored By:
Anesthesia Associates of Central Kansas, PA